
EVALUATION FORM

Developing this teaching pack has been a long process of research, consultation, discussion and trialling of materials. Feedback from participants and other facilitators has been an essential ingredient in trying to make complex issues more accessible. It would be extremely useful for us to know how far we have succeeded in developing a resource which meets the needs of teachers and facilitators. Your comments will help us to make revisions in future online and hard copy editions. Please use a separate sheet if necessary.
